

Technical Assurance & Continuous Improvement Officer

Angelo Bifulco

Angelo Bifulco, graduated in Mechanical Engineering at Catania University in 1994, immediately began working for ENI at the AgipPetroli refinery in Priolo. In 1998, he moved to Houston, United States, with REMOSA (now IMI group). His entire career, with exception of three-year as managing of a FINCANTIERI factory, has been tied to the Oil & Gas industry, particularly refining. In 2010, he joined ERG at Priolo site, which later became LUKOIL, holding increasingly senior positions (Operations Manager, Asset Manager, and Managing Director).

In 2022, he joined VITOL, moving to Fujairah, United Arab Emirates, as Deputy General Manager of a strategic oil hub comprising a terminal and a refinery.

This experience complements and integrates a professional career characterized by an international technical and managerial background.

In September 2025, remaining in the VITOL world, he returned to Italy, joining SARAS in his current role.
